The Program For Humanities In Medicine

would like to invite you to hear a lecture to be given by

Lawrence Rizzolo, PhD
Associate Professor of Anatomy and Experimental Surgery Yale University School of Medicine

The lecture is entitled: HIDDEN TEXTS: REFLECTIONS ON LIVING AND DYING FROM THE ANATOMY LAB. Any formal course has a syllabus that details what a student should learn, but what students actually do learn is guided by a hidden text of which instructors are often unaware. How does this hidden text shape the way we view and live in the world? Explore life’s questions through the stories, poetry and art of first-year medical students striving to define their own professional identity.
