October 19, 2010
Jasjit Bindra Memorial Lectureship

David Ilson, MD, PhD
Professor of Medicine, Weill Medical College of Cornell University, Attending Physician, Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center

Esophageal Cancer: Controversy and Consensus

Needs: The epidemiology and treatment of esophageal cancer are not well known. This course will review the epidemiology and treatment of the rare, but increasing cancer and address the issues of multimodality approach to therapy.

Objectives: To understand epidemiology of esophageal cancer; To learn neoadjuvant therapy approaches for esophageal cancer; To review advanced disease therapy.